LIBRARY PREPARES FOR PARONAGE IN FALL TERM

Busy Season Is Ahead of Students; Reorganize
Force; Early History

With the schools and clubs reorganizing at this time for the beginning of their work for the fall season the members of the library board and staff are particularly extending to them an invitation to avail themselves of the many splendid volumes which have been added to the shelves of the library during the summer months, and are enthusiastically looking forward to a busy season of special interest and help for study by these organizations will be found the books on drama, literature, music, Shakespeare, sociology and other reference books.

The patrons of the library, which include the residents of Glendale generally, are taking considerable pride in the fact that Mrs. J. C. Danford, city librarian, has been awarded a first grade certificate by the committee of certification of the California Library association. This organization issues three classes of certificates, grade one being the highest.

In order to be awarded this certificate it is necessary to have fifteen years' experience as a library executive, which term Mrs. Danford is just completing, four years of college and also technical training, in addition to an examination.

A bill for the certification of librarians is soon to be presented to the state legislature by the California Library association.

The Glendale public library was established February 22, 1906, by the Tuesday Afternoon club, its first home being a store room, which had been made attractive for a reading room. This was located on Wilson avenue, or what was then Third street, near Glendale avenue.

The library still preserves the kerosene lamp which was used during the evenings then to provide light for the readers. The charging desk was a table loaned for the purpose by the Rebekah lodge.

E. C. Goode was the first president of the library board. The city of Glendale took over the library on August 26, 1906, and Miss Mabel Patterson was in charge until November 4, 1906, at which time Mrs. J. C. Danford was employed.

Up until that time no books had been purchased.

The first book donated to the library, which was the nucleus for other gifts, was "The Master Christian," which had been studied by the reading circle of the Tuesday Afternoon club and was later presented to the library.

Rev. C. R. Norton held the first library card, No. 1, and still has the distinction of having this number reserved for him.

The main library on Harvard street at the present time has about 16,000 volumes on its shelves, and a yearly circulation of 130,000.

The library staff has been reorganized for the fall work. Miss Kate Frost, formerly of the Fresno library, is soon to take charge as head of the juvenile department with Miss Alta Arnold as her assistant. At the present time Miss Edna Platt is assisting in this department.

Miss Laura Roberts will be the reference librarian and first assistant at the desk. Miss Eva Garton will be the head of the clerical department. The positions of junior assistant and official substitute have been assigned to Miss Dorothy Carmack and Miss Eloise Francy, respectively.

CHOIR TO OFFER
SPECIAL PROGRAM

Thirty Members to Attend
Dedication Ceremonies
at Catholic Church

An added interest to the dedication of the new church at 8 o'clock on next Sunday afternoon of the Holy Family Catholic church is the announcement that thirty members of the choir of Saint Basil's church of Los Angeles, and the director Edward J. Whelan, will be special guests at the ceremonies and present several selections.

Mr. Whelan is widely known for his work as a member of the faculty of St. John's Academy in Los Angeles, and as organist and choir director of Saint Basil's church, and Rev. James S. O'Neill and parishoners of the Holy Family church are greatly pleased over their participating in the dedication program Sunday.

COMPARATIVE FIGURES SHOW BIG GAINS IN CITY SCHOOLS, INDICATE GLENDALE'S GROWTH

Statistics Provide Interesting Information for Educational Officials; Various Districts
Prove Steady Increase in Population

THE following table of statistics shows the growth over last term of the grade schools and kindergartens of Glendale. It will be noticed that the enrollment at Wilson Intermediate is exactly the same as last year. It was expected the new Glendale Avenue Intermediate would reduce the figure. The new Grand View school enrollment is less than anticipated. Where no figures are given last term means no school was open.

ERNESTINE LYON BECOMES BRIDE

Is Wed to Miller Fishel This Morning; to Have Home
on Catalina Island

The marriage of Miss Ernestine Lyon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Barnes of 665 North Central avenue, and Miller Fishel, took place at 7 o'clock this morning, Wednesday, September 20, 1922, at the bride's home. Rev. Father James S. O'Neill of the Holy Family Catholic church officiated at the single ring ceremony, which was witnessed by a group of immediate relatives of the young couple.

The home of the bride was decorated with bouquets of dahlias and greenery. During the wedding ceremony harp selections were played by Mrs. William Hopkins. The bride was attired in her going-away suit of dark blue kitten's ear silk crepe. She wore a black hat and corsage bouquet of Cecil Brunner roses and lilies of the valley. The bride and bridegroom were unattended.

Leave for North
Immediately after the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Fishel left on the 8 o'clock train for San Francisco, where they will spend their honeymoon. On their return they will be at home at Avalon, Catalina Island, where Mr. Fishel is in business.

Mr. Fishel was formerly a resident of Glendale. Both he and his wife were graduated from the Glendale Union high school in the class of 1917, and their many friends in this city are extending their best wishes.

Extend Greetings to
Rev. H. C. Chrisman

A reception was given last night for Rev. H. C. Chrisman, new pastor of the Christian Missionary Alliance and who recently arrived from Spokane, Wash., at the home of Dr. L. E. Richardson, 1856 South Brand boulevard, with about 150 members of the church present. H. E. Henderson had charge of the program for the evening, which included piano and violin numbers by the Misses Gleiss of Eagle Rock.

Rev. George W. Davis, pastor of the Alliance in Los Angeles and past pastor of the Glendale branch, gave an address of welcome to which Rev. Chrisman responded. The church was represented by Mrs. J. Rhea Baker, the Sunday school by F. W. Harper and the young people's societies by Miss Shaffer. Mrs. Eddings of Montrose presented Rev. Davis, the retiring pastor of the Glendale branch, with a suitable remembrance to his wife, as well as to the wives of Rev. Francis and Rev. Hinkey, bouquets of flowers. Refreshments were then served and a social hour enjoyed.

SUBSTITUTE TEACHER
Miss Mabel S. Laughlin of 601 North Maryland avenue is substituting for Miss Vesta Bigelow of 443 Myrtle street this week at the Columbus school.

ABOUT 600 MORE OF GRADE PUPILS

Wilson Intermediate Enrolls Same As Last Year In Spite of New School

More than 600 children registered at the opening of the elementary schools this year than last, according to statistics furnished by the city board of trustees.

A table comparing the initial enrollment of the commencement of the two terms has been compiled. This reveals several interesting facts in regard to the local school situation.

This term the total enrollment including the kindergartens is 3476 which is an increase of 626 over last term's figures of 2850.

The grades this September have an enrollment of 3181 in comparison with 2625 last September, or an increase of 556.

The kindergartens this year have the care of 295 tiny tots of seventy more than last term's total of 225.

Same Enrollment
Although the new Glendale avenue Intermediate school was expected to reduce the enrollment there the first day was precisely the same as last term. This is being remedied by transferring some of the pupils to the new school.

Cerritos, which was badly crowded last term, now has half the number of pupils in attendance.

Grand View has somewhat surprised the board of trustees by having a registration considerably less than that anticipated.

Colorado has an enrollment of forty-two pupils less than at the opening of school last term.

Acacia, which was considerably enlarged during the summer, now has over three times as many pupils enrolled this term as last.

Other schools show a varying increase in enrollment over the commencement of school last September.

Keeping pace with the city's growth, the Glendale postoffice will soon be in need of additional clerks and carriers, according to Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson.

Examinations are to be held at the high school building on October 7, for those positions of carrier-clerk.

The last examination was held in February. Since that time a number of those who qualified have been given positions, with the result that the list of those eligible has been cut down.

Postmaster Jackson has received word from Washington that he is to build up his force to an even greater strength.

Applications for the examinations may now be secured at the postoffice, it is announced.

TAG DAY WILL AID BONUS FOR NEW RAILWAY LINE

C. of C. Gets Suggestions; Women's Clubs Will Assist Project

As a result of a suggestion made yesterday noon at the directors' and open forum meeting at the Chamber of Commerce, Glendale is to have a tag day in order to raise the funds necessary to put across the electrification of the Glendale avenue line.

The suggestion was made by George W. Strang, vice president of the International Chemical Products company of Glendale, that the chamber promote a tag day to help get the necessary $9125 still needed to make the $25,000 bonus demand. He also offered to pay for the tag day.

Following Mr. Strang's suggestion, it was decided by the directors, that the president of each woman's club in the city of over membership get together and put over the tag day within the next ten days.

Make Committee Reports
The chairman of committees recently appointed were called upon to make reports.

George Bentley, chairman of the committee seeking the building of a new Southern Pacific depot, said that they had held two meetings and were now waiting for an opportunity to have some of the railroad officials meet with them.

Roy L. Kent, first vice president of the chamber, and also chairman of the committee seeking the annexation of Casa Verdugo, said that a meeting had already been held and that they were trying to secure the required number of signatures to a petition to submit the proposition at the next election.

City Councilman C. E. Kimlin of the electrification committee asked for the support of those present in the bonus campaign. He asked P. J. Hayselden to explain what was being done.

Must Increase Average
Mr. Hayselden, after asking for better support in the work, declared that the city would fall short if the present average was kept up. He declared that $15,375 had been secured and that 110 workers had been heard from, but that he was fearful that the result would not be what it was hoped for. It was at this point that the tag day idea was brought up and pledges of help made.

Dr. Jessie Russell told of the meeting that was to be held last evening of the Federated Improvement association at which John A. Griffin, city engineer of Los Angeles, spoke on the sewage disposal problem.

Captain Richard P. Hobson is to be the guest of honor at a meeting next Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock. He is to talk on the scientific extension of education as applied to commercial problems. A number of reservations for the meeting have already been made.

Traffic Problem
William J. Schaeff told of a traffic problem that exists at Los Feliz Road and San Fernando boulevard. He stated that 40,000 cars pass that point on Sunday. He suggested that ordinance that would require every driver to come to a stop when they reach that point. Mr. Kimlin promised to bring the problem to the attention of the city officials.

The condition of Park avenue at San Fernando was discussed. It was stated that at that point the road being in such bad condition a number of accidents have happened recently. It was stated by Mr. Kimlin that the matter had been up before the city officials for some time and they were trying to get cleared up with what was before them.

WOMAN'S DEATH
CAUSES MYSTERY

Leaps From Automobile In Which She Is Riding With Husband, One Report

As a result of what is declared to have been a "peculiar accident," Mrs. George Frazer, 302 Roy Court, Burbank, is dead.

According to the Burbank police, Mr. and Mrs. Frazer were driving in a roadster Sunday night on the San Fernando road. They were about a half mile from the heart of the city when the "accident" happened.

Suddenly, it is declared, Mrs. Frazer leaped from the car and fell to the pavement. She was rushed to her home, where she is said to have died a half hour later.

The general theory advanced is that Mrs. Frazer intended taking her own life, but an inquest is to be held either today or tomorrow, it is announced, to definitely decide, if possible, whether her death was accidental or otherwise.

RING, CASH STOLEN
A vanity case, containing a diamond ring and about $4 in cash, was stolen yesterday from a lock-up at Glendale Union High school. It was the property of Miss Violet Southwell of Tulunga. The theft is being investigated.

GRANDMA BRADLEY OBSERVES 93RD ANNIVERSARY

Proud of Distant Relation to Samuel B. Morse, the Telegraph Inventor

Another twelve months of time has rolled by and Mrs. Rebecca Morse Bradley, who makes her home with her son, L. W. Bradley of 428 North Jackson, is celebrating today the ninety-third anniversary of her birth, which occurred September 20, 1829, in East Haverhill, Mass., near the home of the great poet, John Greenleaf Whittier.

An added feature of "Grandma's" birthday this year is that her name is being enrolled in the Evening News Sunset club, composed of Glendadians past 90. "Grandma" takes fourth place in age among the club members and like the other ten members she enjoys good health and takes an interest in affairs of her home and events of the day.

Related to Inventor
"Grandma's" maiden name was Miss Rebecca Morse Knowles and her husband was James Bradley of Newburyport, Mass. To them were born eight children, three of whom are living. Mr. Bradley's death occurred over twenty years ago.

Mrs. Bradley's living children are L. W. Bradley, at whose home she resides; and two daughters, Mrs. Walter Curtis of Fitchburg, Mass., and Miss Lucy Bradley of Boston, Mass. She has eight grandchildren but no great-grandchildren.

"Grandma" is very proud of her distant relation to Samuel B. Morse, inventor of the telegraph. She is also related to S. F. Smith, author of the words of "America." She was a first cousin of Mr. Smith's wife and among her treasured possessions are an autographed copy of "America" and a letter from Mr. Smith containing a fifth verse to the song.

Enjoy Family Dinner
Among the many interesting events and acquaintances "Grandma" recalls is knowing John Greenleaf Whittier and reading many of his poems in manuscript. Although no formal affair celebrated "Grandma's" birthday today, nevertheless she and her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Bradley, enjoyed a dinner together and a big birthday cake.

In addition, "Grandma" was the recipient of many messages of congratulation from eastern relatives and friends and had the pleasure of calls from local friends.

LLOYD GEORGE RETURNS TO ATTEND CONFERENCE
LONDON, Sept. 20.—Premier Lloyd George cut short his vacation this afternoon and returned from his country estate to preside at a ministerial conference at 6:30 o'clock.

TEMPORARY EMBARGO ON COTTON MEETS DEFEAT
WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—An attempt to place a temporary embargo on cotton was defeated in the senate this afternoon by a vote of 48 to 13. Twelve Republican members of the "tariff bloc" and one Democrat voted for the embargo which would have barred all cotton importation for three months. The senate also voted down, 46 to 14, an attempt to place a tariff of 6 cents a pound on cotton.

PLANNED CONFERENCE
TO DISCUSS NEAR EAST
LONDON, Sept. 20, 7 p. m.—Premier Poincare of France and Lord Curzon, British foreign secretary, at their consultation in Paris agreed to call an allied conference to discuss the Near East situation, said a dispatch from Paris this morning. It is indicated that the allies wish to bring about an accord before the actual peace conference convenes, but it is likely that practically all the work of the peace treaty will be done in the allied conference.

HOUSE PASSES BONUS
BILL OVER HARDING'S VETO
WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Undeterred by President Harding's vigorous disapproval, expressed in his veto message, the house of representatives this afternoon passed the soldiers' bonus bill over his veto.

The action of the house, however, was regarded as constituting little more than an empty gesture, as the bill now goes to the senate where the enemies of the bonus are stronger and where the President's veto will be sustained.

WAR SEEMS Averted; NEAR EAST CONFERENCE
NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Cablegrams today show now that a Balkan war appears completely to have been averted, allied representatives are conferring in Paris today upon plans for a near east conference. It may be held within a fortnight. That Great Britain has formally refused the request of the Turkish nationalists to occupy Thrace, for the eastern part, until the peace conference establishes the new frontiers of Turkey. According to London press advices, Lord Curzon, British foreign secretary, who is in Paris, has made arrangements for allied troops from the Gallipoli peninsula, and the withdrawal of allied troops from the Asiatic shores of the Turkish straits. This would be a concession to the Turks. There was an unconfirmed report from Constantinople that Turkish cavalry had approached the outskirts of Bigha, in the allied neutral zone, but neither the British nor French war offices would verify it. Greece has undertaken reorganization of her army in Thrace as the result of widespread mutiny. Additional Greek reservists may be called up. Britain continues to order reinforcements into Asia-Minor, but on a small scale. Despite advices from Paris quoting Ahmed Ferid Bey, the Turkish "envoy" as saying that Turkey will never accept an allied protectorate for Constantinople, British officials believe that the situation is rapidly clearing and that a solution will be reached without fighting. This was strengthened by the fact that Premier Lloyd George has left London for a brief vacation.

FORMER STRIKING SHOPMEN WIN IN COURT ACTION
INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 20.—Contempt of court proceedings instituted by the Monon railroad against former striking shopmen were dismissed today by Judge Francis E. Baker, who telegraphed his opinion to the federal court here. The action followed settlement of the strike on the Monon late yesterday and was taken on petition of the railroad.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR JAKE STAHL IN CHICAGO
MONROVIA, Sept. 20.—Funeral services for Garland "Jake" Stahl, famous big league baseball player, who died early yesterday at a local sanitarium, of lung trouble, will be held in Chicago, it was announced today. The body will leave here Thursday for the eastern city, where the former star had entered the financial field after retiring from baseball and was president of the Washington Park National Bank.

JURY TO DECIDE FATE OF STRIKING SHOPMEN
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20.—The fate of the three striking shopmen, charged with contempt of court for violating a federal restraining order, was to be decided by a jury in United States Judge Bledsoe's court today. Albert Trautman, Thomas Brewer and Joseph Stecklein, the three men on trial, are charged with assaulting Thomas F. Timlin, 60, Santa Fe shop foreman at Needles on July 27. The restraining order was granted to the railroads two weeks previous, on July 12.

READY FOR OBSERVATION OF TOTAL ECLIPSE OF SUN
WALLA, Australia, Sept. 20.—The Crocker expedition from Lick Observatory, University of California, has been here three weeks making preparations for observation of the total eclipse of the sun tomorrow. All of the days so far have been beautifully clear and the chances for a clear sky for observation of the eclipse are excellent. All of the instruments have been fully mounted and only the final adjustments are yet to be made.

CONGRESS TO RESUME IN MIDDLE OF NOVEMBER
WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—While congressional leaders were preparing to wind up the legislative business of the present session preliminary to an adjournment before the end of the week, a tentative agreement was reached at the White House today between President Harding and Representative Mondell, the house Republican leader, to have congress back in Washington by the middle of November to take up the administration's ship subsidy bill.

VETOED BONUS BILL IS SENT BACK TO CONGRESS
WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—The battle-scarred soldiers' bonus bill went back to congress today, apparently to die. The house is expected to prolong its life a little while by passing it over President Harding's veto. Then it will go to the senate where a close check up revealed today that it will be given the death thrust. The bonus, however, cannot be considered as permanently interred even after the senate sustains the White House veto. Friends of the bonus—and they number a majority in both branches of congress—and officers of the American Legion made this plain today.

SAY SCHOOL GIRL MAY DIE AS RESULT OF ATTACK
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20.—Delirious and in a high fever, Dorothy Cox, 14-year-old San Fernando school girl, who was kidnapped and attacked in a house near her home, was reported in a serious condition at a Burbank hospital today. The attending physician is said to have reported that the girl may die. Four youths, now in the county jail charged with the crime, are being held in default of $10,000 bail, fixed by Justice Hinchey when they were arraigned. Their preliminary hearing has been set for next Tuesday at 10 a. m. Should the girl die, it was intimated that the charge against them may be changed to murder.

MRS. CLARA PHILLIPS WILL PLEAD INSANITY, CLAIM
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20.—All doubt that Mrs. Clara Phillips would put up the defense of insanity when she goes to trial October 20 on the charge of beating Mrs. Alberta Meadows to death with a hammer, was swept away today, when it became known that her husband, Arthur L. Phillips, obtained more than a score of affidavits touching on her insanity on his recent trip to Texas in quest of funds. The defense will not be based on a plea of permanent insanity, but her attorneys will contend that she is subject to periodic spells of mental derangement, and that it was while suffering from one of these spells that she may have slain Mrs. Meadows.

NINE BODIES SO FAR REMOVED FROM MINE TOMB
JACKSON, Sept. 20.—All nine bodies which have thus far been removed to the surface of the Kennedy shaft out of a total of forty-seven whose lives were snuffed out by gas caused by fire in the Argonaut gold mine, were identified today. The body of A. Pazzina, unmarried, was identified by means of a pipe which his more fortunate comrades recognized as belonging to him. The pipe was found in the scant clothing remaining on the body, the remainder of which had been used in a vain effort to check the flow of the deadly gas beyond a series of barricades which the doomed men had hastily erected. The body of Ernest Miller, who leaves a widow, was identified by means of a watch and ring. Up to a late hour this forenoon, no additional bodies had been brought to the surface. Slow progress was attributed to changing first arrangements for handling the corpses.

Dr. and Mrs. H. R. Harrower and daughter, Verna, of 1516 East Broadway, and James Howarth, business manager of the Harrower Laboratory, will leave Los Angeles at 10:50 o'clock Friday morning for New York, where the Harrowers will sail October 22 on the Majestic for a six months' trip abroad.

During Dr. Harrower's and Mr. Howarth's absence, E. J. Smith, sales manager, will have charge of the administration of the laboratory and will direct affairs until the return shortly of C. L. Cyphers, assistant business manager, who has been on a tour of the branch laboratories in the east.

Mrs. Dora Gibson Is Named on Committee

Richard C. Olney, state commissioner of education, has appointed Mrs. Dora Gibson, director of music at Glendale Union High school, as a member of a committee to revise the courses of music study in the high schools throughout the state and also to recommend courses for the junior high schools, which have just been organized and for which, as yet, there is no music course.

The first meeting of this committee will be held in Los Angeles tonight to take up this subject. The existing courses of music study will be examined and reports secured on the texts that are giving the best results, according to Mrs. Gibson, who also states that the committee expects to examine all of the new publications they can secure in order to find out which will give the maximum results in the minimum of time.

NO ROBBERIES IN EAGLE ROCK FOR LAST NIGHT

City Marshall Presses New Men Into Service As Former Force Quits

Two emergency police, pressed into service by Claude Bramble, city marshal, guarded Eagle Rock from dark last night until dawn this morning, and the official police blotter shows no robberies were reported during the time these officers were on watch.

The fact that the entire personnel of the regular night police department of Eagle Rock had handed in their resignations Monday night, and had quit the service when they had accepted their resignations caused much speculation as to what steps would be taken by the police department to give the city night police protection.

Were Guarding City

Charles Cates, a member of the Eagle Rock street department, and who had been deputized by Bramble some time ago, and who lately has been making a number of arrests of motorists who have driven their cars over streets in the course of repair, acted in the capacity of night men at the city hall, as Ted McMahon, the new motorcycle cop who has lately been riding with Harry Williams, stood ready with his motorcycle to go out on emergency calls.

It is expected that it will be several days before Bramble will make his regular appointments and that a regular night force will be on duty.

Back In City From Lengthy Trip East

Mr. and Mrs. Albert G. Hann, 314 East Colorado, have returned to Glendale after a month's trip in New York and New England.
According to their reports upon their return home they had a great deal of rain in the east during the time they were there.
They spent some time visiting relatives in Boston and the vicinity of New York. On their return to this city they stopped off at Chicago where they visited Mr.
Hann's brother, Robert Hann.
"And while we had a fine time seeing old friends, you may say for us that we are happy to get back to Glendale," chorused Mr. and Mrs. Hann.

COMMENT THAT'S ALL

A Matter of Good Will
What Have YOU Done?
Prospered? Perhaps Not Styles to Be Noticed

By Gil A. Cowan

PERSONALITY plays a great part in the success of many Glendale enterprises.

As one mixes with the merchants of this city it is very evident that a great deal of their business depends on "good will."

There is something indefinable about that term, "good will," but it is evident in almost every transaction.

It does not mean alone that the dealer is glad to get your dollar.
Nor does it mean that he feels recompensed alone in the service which he performs.

Yet combining all of the elements together you find "good will" in the way the greeting is given at the door, the way the clerk or proprietor serves you, the alacrity with which the purchase is handed out, the golden ring of the cash register, the hearty invitation to "come again."

In all business "good will" was a tangible sales value. Few are the men who do not boast "good will," although some may be starving for friendship.

Just look back into your own experience and see how much of an intangible quality has been capitalized.

While in the reflective mood, folks, look into the mirror and ask your own facial expression to smile.

You will find it easy—really,
you get quite a kick out of laughing at yourself.

And when you have learned to smile subconsciously, why then practice saying "thank you" to the folks at home.

In business dealings never assume the negative attitude, never expect to lose a deal, for such psychology may cost you just what you fear.

There is nothing like optimism in evincing "good will." Like breeds like. Success spells success. Good will begets good will.

Glendale has a reputation to maintain in the world of today.
That is, "the fastest growing city in America."

What have you done to aid its growth? How many new families are you directly or indirectly responsible for bringing here? How many new people are on your pay-rolls? How many Los Angeles friends have you entertained or told about the beauties of Glendale?

In a word, WHAT HAVE YOU DONE?

If Glendale is to go ahead, as it has been, all must work together, produce and give to the limit and in turn expect to receive the benefits.

The other day I was talking to one of the early settlers. He had not prospered proportionately with other newer arrivals.

There is no need telling the tale of hardship that he endured, but—

Was it his lack of faith and foresight, or was it something beyond his control?

Except for sickness or unforeseen financial reverses there is no reason why all could not prosper and progress.

Commenting on the latest style
note, The Hollywood Daily Citizen says:

Knees are to be covered and—in the same breath—ears are coming out!

That is one of the most important bits of news received hereabouts in a long time. The threat of an Anglo-Turkish war can't hold a candle to this latest fashion announcement in matter of public interest.

Ears are coming out and knees are going in.

It is a change of tactics.

Having bared her knees and thus sent forth a call into the canyon of susceptible masculinity, woman is now baring her ears so that she may not miss the answering echo.

It is a task worthy of the greatest mathematicians to determine how many faltered proposals have been lost in the mass of hair with which woman has seen fit to another her auditory organs in the past.

But this is all over now. Hereafter the females of the species will be as rigidly on the qui vive as the male that walked on tiptoe with his ears back lest he should miss the veriest suggestion of a "whoa."

Or, perhaps, there may be something subtly seductive about the ear that has never been realized before.

Whatever it is, woman probably knows what she is doing.

Many a fellow who tries to do others finds himself undone.

SCIENCE SUBJECT OF ADDRESS BY PETER V. ROSS

Way of Escape Made for Suffering and Sorrowing Declares Speaker

Peter V. Ross, C. S. B., member of the board of lectureship of the mother church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., gave a lecture on "Christian Science; the Divine Immanence" last night at the Glendale church, the following being a brief outline:

"If there has been any event of modern history more remarkable than the discovery of Christian Science, that event has been the successful establishment of Christian Science on an enduring foundation. To discover this Science, required rare spiritual insight; to so establish it that the truths of Christianity should not again be lost to sight, required unsurpassed sagacity, resolution, courage and devotion. These qualities were possessed to a superlative degree by Mary Baker Eddy, which answers the oft repeated question:
Why did Christian Science come through a woman?"

"To a world sick with its belief in materialism, intellectualism and skepticism, as well as sick with sin and disease, Mrs. Eddy has brought a workable means of regeneration. For the suffering and sorrowing she has made known a divinely prepared way of escape. Those who are availing themselves of the opportunity thus provided, hold her name in love and reverence, while people the world over are coming to recognize her as one of the foremost benefactors of the race.

Mental Origin of Ills

"Christian Science constantly reminds us of the importance of shutting out of our mental home sorrow thoughts of every description, and welcoming good thoughts only, for everything has its inception in thought." The harsh word would not have been spoken if the thought had not not been harbored; the evil deed would not have been committed if it had not first been thought or planned; disease had never made its appearance if mortal mind had not first conceived and pictured it.

"But some one may ask, 'How can this be true in my case, for I never thought of this ailment of mine until it came upon me?'
In reply to this question it may be said that we know very little of what mortal mind is thinking.
Mrs. Eddy says: 'The physical universe expresses the conscious and unconscious thoughts of mortals.'
(Science and Health, p. 484.)
When we desire to move the hand, we consciously give the mental order and the resulting movement is visible. We have no difficulty in observing the mental cause and effect. But that same mentality which directs and compels the hand to move also directs and compels the heart to beat, yet we are not conscious of the fact. Illustrations of this kind can be multiplied in connection with other organs and functions of the body, for the thinking is unconscious as well as conscious mental action.

Prayer or Treatment

"Right thoughts are invested with power and energy, for they come from the divine mind. By clinging to them we ally ourselves with omnipotent and omnipresent good. They are the word of God, quick and powerful to heal and to save. And every man, woman, and child can, in large measure, think rightly, that is, insist that good is the actual and all embracing, while evil, whatever form it may try to assume, is an illusion, a falsity. In the presence of such thinking, sickness and suffering lose their place in human consciousness and pass out of experience. They can be no part of true existence, and multitudes of people are today proving this through scientific and intelligent prayer, through right thinking and right doing, which lifts them into that consciousness of Life harmonious which is God."

"But prayer, as understood in Christian Science, is much more than merely asking God to give us the good things we seem to lack, whether of health or happiness or what not. It consists, rather, in silently realizing the good and that the seeming presence of sickness or distress or want is not a fact, but a false appearance. This mental attitude whereby we reject thoughts of fear and hate and disease, and entertain thoughts of health and love and confidence that "underneath are the everlasting arms," draws us up to God. Indeed, it brings us into that oneness with Him where all that the Father has is seen to be ours."

TO GREET REV. EDMONDS

Rev. W. E. Edmonds of the Presbyterian church has returned from his vacation and is to have charge of the prayer meeting service tonight, it is announced.
The subject is, "When Is a Church Not a Church?"

A committee of the official boards of the church has arranged a welcome for Rev. Edmonds. The welcome is to take place immediately after the prayer meeting. A brief musical program has been arranged.

"Virtue is its own reward," quoted the Wise Guy. "Yes, it seldom gets an encore," agreed the Simple Mug.

AGAIN THE RAJO HEAD WINS. The Pike's Peak hill climb on Labor day was won by a Ford equipped with a Rajo Head. The Rajo made the fastest time of any car to the summit, through blinding rain, sleet and hazardous curves. A new dirt road record was also set at the San Luis Obispo Labor Day Races, the Rajo equipped car breaking the world's unofficial dirt track record for 1, 15, 20, 25 miles, setting a speed of 44 secs. flat for the mile. These are further examples of the wonderful improvement in speed and power the Rajo head gives your engine.

With a Rajo head, practically the only time you use low gear is for starting. Tests have proven that Rajo adds 8 to 14 horsepower to any Ford motor—making the Ford the most powerful car in the world per pound of weight. A Rajo offers a driving range of 3 to 55 miles per hour if desired, and its vibrationless action increases riding comfort as well.

LARRY MURPHY IS EASILY WINNER OVER SIREY

Succeeds In Reversing Former Battle by Landing Right Hand Punch

Making good all of his promises registered during the past week "Fighting Larry" Murphy, who was knocked out last week by George Sirey, came back strong last night at Vernon and succeeded in reversing the former result. As was the case in their first battle, the end came shortly after the beginning of the second round, Sirey being floored for the count of ten with a terrific right punch to the chin. Murphy, who lost his first fight with Sirey through carelessness in leaving himself "open," started last night's melee in an extremely cautious manner, taking no chances of repeating the dose. Throughout the first round Sirey was forced to do all the leading, with the exception of the last quarter of a minute, when Murphy opened up with one solid blow which sent the over-confident Sirey to the canvas. He was saved by the bell, however, being spared from the unmerciful wallop of his battling Irish opponent for an extra few minutes.

In the main event Young Brown was awarded a well earned decision over Ernie Gozeman, who is sometimes dubbed "the Pride of San Diego."

Brown led all the way, his continual barrage of rights and lefts never giving Gozeman the chance to stage an offensive. Other bouts on the card resulted as follows: Frankie Novie was given a decision over George Rivers; Louie Garcia beat Johnny Tynan; Jack Moore was outpointed by Ernest Owens; Johnny LaRosa and Joe Mandot battled to a fierce draw, as did Lucky Lugo and Eddie Watson.

Leaders Not Affected

Vernon succeeded in creeping within a half game of San Francisco yesterday when Ivan Howard's Oakland squad was defeated in the opening game of the series at Washington Park. The Sacramento-Portland contest was the only other one played in the circuit, so that the leaders were not affected by the result. The score of the Vernon-Oakland encounter was 11 to 4, the Tigers leading from the third inning when a trio of runs was chased across the plate. Not satisfied with a single run as a margin Bill Beck's lads stepped out in the fifth and clinched the affair by scoring five tallies. Caffeine was started for the trans-bay crew and was relieved in the fifth by Rube Brenton. Jess Doyle did the hurling for the winners.

Should Los Angeles make a good account of itself up in Frisco today, and Vernon be able to repeat the dose administered yesterday to Oakland, a southern team will be at the head of the league for the first time since the early part of the season.

Swat Home Runs
Charley High of Portland and Paul Strand of Salt Lake continue to set the pace in home run honors for the Coast League. Each has a total of twenty-four, being four ahead of Sand, their nearest competitor. In the batting averages Sammy Hall of the Portland Beavers has climbed up to a tie with Duffy Lewis for second honors. Their average is .368, while that of Paul Strand, the leader, is now .383.

There is no denying the fact that Cornell had a great football aggregation last season and that Ed Kaw was her scintillating star. Had the New York state school played a stiffer schedule no doubt she would have attracted more attention.

But this season finds the veteran coach, Dobie, with Captain Kaw and a fine nucleus from last year's stars, upon which to build a team that should be poison for its adversaries.

Not since the days of the dazzling Barrett has such a football wizard worn a red and white jersey. Kaw can pass and catch a ball with the best of them. His overhead game has no weakness. A fine kicker plus the fact that he scored more touchdowns than any other player in the country, proves his capacity to carry the ball. This Kaw is a three threat man. When his opponents see him receive the ball it's a puzzle to know whether he'll pass, run with the ball, or kick.

Given the ball on a cross buck, Kaw was the hardest man in the country to bring down. Walter Camp, choosing him as All-American fullback, had this to say last fall: "The back position goes to Kaw of Cornell, the greatest performer on a muddy field the writer has ever seen. What Kaw did in other games on a dry field might possibly be done by one of our other stars; but what he did in Cornell's main contest, her final game of the season against Pennsylvania, in a sea of mud, could not be done by any other back in the game."

"He is a thorough all-around man, kicker, forward passer, catcher; and he has the greatest lunge forward, when about to be tackled, of any man in the backfield today. He tears loose or else his lunge carries the tackler straight back for a yard or two."

"He can handle and kick a wet, slimy ball. His team found no opponents who could stop Kaw and Cornell continued unbeaten, defeating Dartmouth 59 to 7, and Pennsylvania 41 to 0, largely through the performance of this star."

And so with the return of Ed Kaw to captain Cornell this year things look pretty bright for a great football season in the Red and White camp.

HEAVY GRAPPLERS BATTLE TONIGHT AT HOLLYWOOD

Mixture of Styles Should Provide Lots of Thrills; Willard at Home

Wladek Zbyszko, the Pole heavyweight wrestler who has been one of the leading figures in the grappling world during the past few years, has arrived in Los Angeles to make final preparations for his match with Renato Gardini at the Hollywood American Legion stadium tonight. Gardini, who has appeared on the mat several times in Pacific Coast cities during the past few weeks, will not arrive at the scene of battle until this morning, when he is scheduled to fly from San Francisco to Los Angeles in an airplane.

The Zbyszko-Gardini bout will be a two-hour affair, or the best two out of three falls, according to previous agreement.

Bull Montana, Italian moving picture "beauty" and wrestler will referee both of the evening's bouts, the preliminary being a one-hour "mixed" match of Japanese jiu-jitsu and catch-as-catch-can wrestling between "Toots" Mondt and Taro Miyake.

The affair will be a novel one in Hollywood, the first half-hour of the match to be turned over to jiu-jitsu and the remaining half hour the men will go after each other "American style."

Home From Vaudeville
Jess Willard and his manager, Gene Doyle, have returned to Los Angeles after having been sojourning up the coast for several weeks on vaudeville circuit. Both "Big Jess" and his manager are still hot on the trail of Champion Jack Dempsey for a return match, which they claim is being dodged by Dempsey and Manager Kearns.

Willard is still in as good condition as he was previous to fulfilling his vaudeville engagement and has already announced that he will take up his training where it was left off within the next few days.

Swimming Carnival
The members of the recently organized Arrowhead Lake Swimming club have announced that their first swimming carnival will take place at the mountain resort next Sunday afternoon. The schedule will include numerous events for both men and women, individual prizes having been offered for each winner.

YANKEES APPEAR TO HAVE CINCH

Browns Have But Slight Chance to Win Pennant; Easy for Giants

The Yankee pennant stock took a boom today following their defeat of the Tigers while the Browns were losing to the Senators.

The Yankees now have a lead of 2 1/2 games. They have nine more games to play and the Browns have eight.

Every victory the Yanks gain in their remaining games will make it so much harder for the Browns to overhaul them.

In order to win the Browns must gain three more victories than the Yanks in the few games and still win even if the Browns win all their remaining eight games.

Giants Have Edge
The Giants lost half a game of their lead yesterday when they were idle while the Pirates were trimming the Phillies. The Giants have a lead of 1 1/2 games. They meet the Pirates in the first of a three-game series today.

Pittsburg must sweep the series to have a look in on the pennant. One or more victories for the Giants will shatter the Pirates' chances.

The Giants have thirteen more games to play while the Pirates have ten.

The Giants need only seven of their remaining contests to win out even if the Pirates win all their ten games.

This gives the Giants the edge as they have to play a little better than .500 ball while the Pirates must play .1000.

All in all, it looks like another New York world's series two weeks from now.

Americans Believe in Fair Play

Reasons for Voting "YES" on the Chiropractic Bill Number 16, November 7th

- I LIBERTY—The Constitutional right to choose your own method of getting well.
- II JUSTICE—Chiropractors ask a change in a law which punishes for relieving the sick.
- III FAIRNESS—The practice of Chiropractic should not be controlled by the Medical Board who know nothing of its practice.
- IV COMMON SENSE—Chiropractors should examine Chiropractors.
- V PROGRESS—Twenty-two states have Chiropractic Boards of Examiners; California is behind.
- VI LIBERALITY—Even if you never expect the services of a chiropractor, you should not deprive your neighbor of that privilege, if it is his choice.
- VII SANITY—There is no sane reason for the persecution of a good system of healing.
- VIII FREEDOM—Examining Boards have been created by the State for optometrists, dentists, druggists, veterinary surgeons, medical graduates; why not grant a similar Examining Board to chiropractors?
- IX PROTECTION—The public needs protection from incompetent practitioners; the creation of an Examining Board will do this.
- X EQUALITY—Cessation of attacks, which result in the incarceration of good citizens, who have done nothing but good to their fellow man.
- XI FAIR PLAY—The present law gives the Medical Board an effective weapon to crush Chiropractic; chiropractors only ask for fair play.
- XII ECONOMY—Saving to the taxpayers of immense expenditures to convict persons who are doing nothing but good.
- XIII REASONABLENESS—A Board of Chiropractic Examiners will be self-sustaining; will not cost taxpayers one cent.
- XIV DECENCY—Arrests of chiropractors have all been made by paid operatives of the Medical Board and not by patients of the chiropractor.
- XV SQUARE DEAL—Chiropractors ask for a square deal only.
- XVI CONSTITUTIONALITY—The Constitution of the United States guarantees the "pursuit of happiness." Health is happiness.

The World Over

By FRANKLIN R. MORSE, PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

As far as the change in the football rules is concerned relative to the new procedure for the try at goal after touchdown, the few early season games have demonstrated that it is not going to add any great element of excitement to a contest. It seems to be generally conceded, however, that the new ruling is better than the old one of merely booting the ball over without a lot of hindrance from in front of the goal.

The interest that is being taken in golf may be measured by the amount of stuff that is carried by the telegraph wires. In the recent California championships, a purely state affair, nearly 30,000 words were sent out. Important national affairs are dismissed with a whole lot less than this.

Fans are commiserating with the tough luck attending Sister of the St. Louis Americans. When within one of tying the record of hits in consecutive games, he had to quit owing to a bruised shoulder. However, when he gets back again, it will not mitigate against him if he knocks them out, for his games still will be consecutive, as far as he is concerned.

Just why the story of the football rules is concerned relative to the new procedure for the try at goal after touchdown, the few early season games have demonstrated that it is not going to add any great element of excitement to a contest. It seems to be generally conceded, however, that the new ruling is better than the old one of merely booting the ball over without a lot of hindrance from in front of the goal.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20. — The last of the 1922 "if" series comes down to a decision at the Polo grounds during the next three days in the final meeting of the Pirates and the Giants. An "if" series is one of those affairs that gives you cramps proving something that isn't and will not be. It is a diverting pastime.

In the present instance the "if" is a top-heavy detail. The Giants are riding high, wide and handsome today, five and one-half games in front with 13 to go. Therefore, "if" the Pirates can run through them for three straight the Pittsburg outfit will only be 2 1/2 games in the rear with seven to play. Then the Pirates would be forced to win six of those seven games. "If" the Giants break even on their remaining ten for the race to end in a tie.

Again, "if" the Pirates take two out of three in the present series and rush through the rest of the schedule without a defeat, in short, win nine of their next ten games, the Giants would have to win but four of their last ten games to get a tie.

But "if" the Giants win the series, everyone can pick up their building blocks and go on about their business. It will be all over. Reckoned on the full schedule, regardless of the Giant-Pirate

"What the hell are you doing here?" it called. "Don't you know that it's not safe to be in this district after nightfall? And if you don't—well, a pocketful of lead will perhaps convince you!"

From the darkness ahead of them a figure followed the voice. Cleek could dimly discern a tall, slouchy-shouldered man, clad in overalls, with a cap pulled down close over his ears, and in the grasp of his right hand a very business-like looking revolver.

Cleek thought for a moment, then plunged bravely in.

"Come up from the passage, sir," he responded curtly. "Load in' up tonight, and some fool locked t'other end before me and my mate 'ere 'ad finished our work. 'Ad to come along this way dahn there, and we're due for loadin' the stuff at the docks at midnight. Master'll be devilish mad if 'e finds us missin'."

It was a chance shot, but somehow often favors the brave. It told. The man lowered his revolver, gave them a quick glance from head to toe, and then swung upon his heel.

"Well, better clear out while there's no danger," he returned sharply. "Two other men are on the watch-out for strangers. Take that short cut there"—he pointed to the left—"and skirt round to the road. Quarter of a mile'll

HAS NEW BLOOD TESTING DEVICE

An electrical device in the hands of a Los Angeles scientist may determine whether Prof. John P. Tiernan of Notre Dame university, at South Bend, Ind., or Harry Poulin, prominent clothing merchant of the same city, is the father of a baby born nine months ago to Mrs. Tiernan, wife of the professor. Dr. C. I. Thudichum, at right, prominent Los Angeles scientist, is pictured demonstrating the use of his electrical device, which is affected by the blood pressure and condition of the blood.

STORAGE BATTERIES

Further to the two preceding articles upon storage batteries comes that important part—their upkeep.

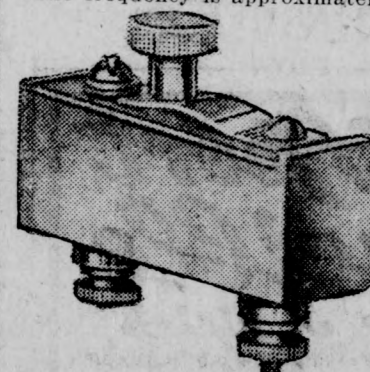

For testing the density of battery electrolytes an instrument called a "hydrometer" is the best device, as the density of the solution is the best indication of its condition, and upon the condition of the electrolyte a great deal rests. In other words, the density of the electrolyte rises and falls with the charging and discharging of a cell, and it is therefore obvious that a simple test of the density or specific gravity of the solution by means of the inexpensive hydrometer, readily indicates its condition. The specific gravity reading will vary with the make of the cell, but in general may be found between 1.200 and 1.300, the exact reading being given with

A NEW KICK

Polly and Peggy, the two flappingest flaps in town, were taking in their first ball game. They didn't know much about the rules, so their interest centered on the one man on the field who was dressed in civilian clothes.

"Wouldn't you fairly hate to be married to an umpire, Peg?" demanded Polly about the end of the fifth.

"Oh, I don't know," replied Peggy judicially. "They make good money and they're always on the job."

"I know, you poor materialist. But just think of being tied to a man who's so used to having the last word in an argument."

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND BECKIE'S BONNET

"Uncle Wiggily! Oh! Uncle Wiggily!" called a voice outside the hollow stump bungalow of the rabbit gentleman one day.

"Dear me!" exclaimed Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, who was mending holes in the rabbit's socks. "I hope that isn't the Bob Cat."

"You don't hope it any more than I do!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily. "I'll take a peep through the side window before I go to the door."

But when he had looked from the side window Uncle Wiggily saw only Beckie Stubbail, the girl bear, standing on the porch.

"It's all right—only Beckie!" laughed the bunny, as he opened the door and let her enter.

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily!" exclaimed Beckie. "You were so kind as to show my brother Neddie a lovely hide-hole in the woods yesterday, that I was wondering if you wouldn't—"

"Tut! Tut! None of that!" laughed the bunny, holding up one paw. "I'm not going to show you how to hide in a hollow log, Beckie, and have you stuck there so you can't get out! Never!"

"Oh, I don't want you to show me a hide-hole," laughed Beckie. "All I want you to do is to show me how to make a new bonnet."

"A new bonnet!" cried the bunny gentleman. "I don't know anything about making bonnets for animal girls!"

"Oh, yes, he does; doesn't he, Nurse Jane?" asked Beckie.

"I guess she means the time you took a flower, turned it upside down, tied some ribbon grass around it and made a bonnet for Susie Littletail," spoke Nurse Jane.

"That's it!" giggled Beckie. "I'm going to a little party this afternoon, Uncle Wiggily, and I wish you'd come to the woods with me and make me a bonnet. Make it out of flowers, ferns, grass or birch bark—I don't care what."

"Hum!" murmured Uncle Wiggily, with a twinkle of his pink nose. "Yes, I might, I s'pose, make you a bonnet of birch bark."

"Oh, how lovely!" cried Beckie. "I just know my bonnet will be the nicest one at the party. I'll tell all the animal girls that Uncle Wiggily made it and—"

"Don't!" cried the bunny with a laugh. "Then they'll all be teasing me to make them bonnets. If I'm lucky enough to make you a bonnet, Beckie, please say nothing about it. Let them think it came from the eleven and twelve cent store if they wish."

"All right," agreed Beckie.

Soon she and Uncle Wiggily were on their way toward the woods, where the white birch bark grew on tall trees. On the way Uncle Wiggily was thinking of the best way to make Beckie a bonnet.

"It was mostly luck before, making one for Susie," he thought to himself. "I don't know how this may turn out, but I'll do my best."

Reaching the forest, Uncle Wiggily looked about for a large birch tree, to which he would do little harm if he only took off a small piece of bark. For Beckie did not want a very large bonnet.

Finding the tree, Uncle Wiggily nibbled off a strip of bark. Then he sat down on a flat stump, while Beckie sat down on a log near him, and then the rabbit uncle began to make the bonnet. He turned the two edges of the bark together, and fastened them in place with thorns from a briar bush. Over the ends of the thorns Uncle Wiggily placed acorns, so the sharp points wouldn't stick Beckie.

"That's the beginning of the bonnet," said Uncle Wiggily. "The frame, so to speak. Now I must trim it."

He picked some ferns and twined them around the bark bonnet. Then he stuck on, in front, some green moss, fastening it there with sticky gum from the pine tree.

"Oh, how lovely! How perfectly lovely!" cried Beckie, holding her paws under her chin. "May I try it on, Uncle Wiggily?"

"Not yet, I must put some strings on the bonnet so you can tie it under your chin," said the bunny.

He used pieces of thin grape vine for strings, and just as he had fastened them on the bonnet, all of a sudden there was a loud crashing sound in the bushes, and through them burst the Skillery Scallery Alligator.

"Boo! Boo!" bellowed the 'Gator. "I'm in luck today! I have caught you, Uncle Wiggily."

Hardly knowing what he was doing, Uncle Wiggily reached up and put Beckie's bonnet on his head. His ears stuck out on either side, his eyes went blinkie-blinkie, and his nose went twinkle-tinkle, while his ears went floppy-floppy.

The Alligator took one look at Uncle Wiggily, who was as funny as a clown in the circus, and then the 'Gator began to laugh.

"Ha! Ha! Ho! Ho! He! He!" giggled the 'Gator. "Oh, how funny you look. Oh, I can't stop laughing. Oh! Ha! Ha! Ho! Ho! Tee! Tee!" And he laughed so hard at the funny sight of Uncle Wiggily in Beckie's bonnet, that 'Gator did, that he got the hiccoughs. And he hiccupped so much that he turned a back somersault, bumped his nose and then tears came into his eyes.

The laughter tears got mixed with the pain tears, and the 'Gator couldn't see out of his eyes.

"Come on, Beckie!" cried Uncle Wiggily, taking off the bonnet, "this is our chance to run away!" And run home they did, leaving the 'Gator still laughing and hiccupping. And at the party every one said Beckie's bonnet was too sweet for anything.

"And it's useful, too," said Uncle Wiggily, as he thought of how it had saved his ears.

So if the rubber ball doesn't bounce up so high that it makes the hands of the clock go around backward, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Toodle's tooter.

Side Talks by Ruth Cameron

THOSE CRAZY STATEMENTS

Speaking of laws we ought to have (I have a hazy notion I recently made some remarks on "there ought to be a law" let's add a law to punish people who go about making misleading statements on the subject of finances. This is the kind of thing I refer to.

S. is thinking of buying a car. He does not know whether he can afford it or not. He is talking to L. about it.

N. is a person with a fine large manner and a cheerful habit of making fine large statements. And this is what he says on the subject of cars. "If you take care of your car yourself the way I do it won't cost you such an awful lot. I reckon that mine didn't cost me but $12 a month last year for everything and I drove it 12,000 miles."

They Would Rather Not Know. Now any automobile owner, even the blithe ones who keep no accounts because they would rather not know that there was a hole somewhere in that statement.

But, unfortunately, he was talking to someone who had never owned a car and who was just waiting for encouragement to take the plunge. "People in that state of mind always eat up such statements—and then have financial indigestion afterwards."

Someone who did own a car was listening in, and asked L. if he reckoned depreciation.

"No," he said.

They never do. And yet, if one buys a thing for one price and sells it for another, the difference must surely be considered as a part of the running expenses. It certainly isn't a gift from the gods. Anyone can testify to that.

Repairs Less Than Nothing. Then he asked if he reckoned insurance. He did. Forty-two dollars covered his insurance. That left $102 a year for gas, oil and any repairs. Times he did not count because he turned the car in before getting a new set. Of course they made the depreciation larger but he wasn't bothering with that.

Apparently someone must have paid him for the privilege of making repairs, for the gas alone to have traveled those 12,000 miles would have cost him $165 (allowing him twenty miles to the gallon) and that alone was $62 in excess of his reckoning.

Make Them Financially Responsible. Some day the man who listened so eagerly to those delightful figures will look back and say, "What was the man talking about?" But at the time he was ready to fight anyone who questioned the accuracy of his informant.

I've been through the same experience myself and I know, you see. Yes, I really think it would be fine if we could pass a law making people who make these wild statements financially responsible for some of the losses of the people who act on them. Let's all write our senators.

KITCHENETTE COOKING FOR BUSINESS WOMEN

Too many women attempt to do light housekeeping who end a day on tight and toast. Allow nothing to interfere with the eating of three nourishing meals a day, allotting to the preparation and clearing away time equivalent to that formerly spent in going to and from the boarding place and waiting to be served. Breakfast can be prepared in ten minutes. Dinner should be prepared in thirty minutes, sometimes less, while the clearing away, listing of supplies and straightening the "pantry" should be done in fifteen more minutes.

The easiest way to plan the menus is week by week; one can then see exactly what is needed day by day and utilize everything.

When a cooked cereal is scheduled for breakfast, it should be prepared at night in the tea kettle double boiler. Use the same method for cooking fruits. When the menu calls for two articles, like tomatoes and hamburger steak, both needing a sauce or frying pan the double omelet pan could be used. Powdered coffee, dissolved in boiling water could be used sometimes to great advantage, a cupful of water boiled while dishing up the meal.

In planning menus, make sure that each meal contains a protein, as the tendency in light housekeeping is toward starch and sweets. For dinner, always plan meat or fish, as well as one starch and at least one fresh vegetable. Occasionally introduce a cooked dessert, either making it in the morning or starting it as soon as you arrive at night.

As there is little storage space in a kitchenette, marketing must be done from day to day, on the French plan. Leave your order on the way to business in the morning, selecting the meat, vegetables and fruits up to the following day.

Menus Suitable to Kitchenette Cooking

During the winter months, by careful planning, one could get along without ice, but a tiny ice box could be purchased for a few dollars, concealed with rug or couch cover to harmonize with floor covering, and it would, no doubt, pay for itself in a short time in the saving of food. Ready cooked food is always expensive, and, besides, the cuts of meat roasted to be sold over the delicatessen counter are seldom if ever, as tender as those which would select for home roasting. Pot roasts are nearly as good as the oven roasts, if they are cooked very slowly, and after serving it hot it can be kept on ice, ready for reheating, slicing cold to be eaten with a sauce, hash, etc.

A small portable oven can be used to good advantage for an extra half hour to be spared for the preparation of dinner. If one has an electric chafing dish, percolator, etc., it simplifies kitchenette cooking very materially, and especially so when there is "real company" in to a meal.

Finds Some Changes In Past Twenty Years

Alfred Fredericks of Phoenix, Ariz., who is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Collins of 913 Mariposa street, is having rather a Rip Van Winkle experience, for he has not been in southern California or Glendale for twenty years ago.

Mr. Fredericks was greatly amazed when he finally took the street car for Glendale and upon his arrival found himself in a city instead of the little village of twenty years ago.

Several years ago I met a woman whose hair had shortened from far below the waistline to the shoulders. During the ten years it had taken to do this, the hair had become extremely fine and brittle, while the quantity had lessened until the scalp would have shown through the hair had it not been for the fact that her hair was naturally curly and fluffed out over her head. As she was a woman of fine health, she had never had dandruff nor any other scalp troubles, she felt that her lost hair was natural and the deterioration was one of the inevitable processes that went along with passing years. She deplored the loss but accepted it, until the day she confided to me that she would soon have to resort to transformation and switches.

An examination showed that all of her hair had split ends. Some of these splits had extended many inches up the hair shafts. At every combing the hair broke off in pieces like dried grass. She had never trimmed off any of these broken ends, and had never realized that continual sunning and airing the hair had dried it out. As she had a skin which was inclined to be inactive, there had never been sufficient secretion to allow for this drying process.

This woman's hair improved from the day the ends were clipped. It has grown to below the waistline, and new growths are succeeding each other all the time, each stronger and healthier than the old hair; yet there had been no other restorative measures used than clipping the ends every six weeks and a daily vigorous massaging of the scalp.

This woman's case is a typical one of deterioration from neglecting to clip the ends of the hair, which are inclined to split. The traditional clipping at the time of the increasing moon had its virtue because a regular time was set to attend to this detail which is not so small as it seems to be to some people.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.
Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories"

ADENOIDS AND TONSILS

There is a ring of tissue in the back of the throat known as the tonsil ring. This is composed, generally speaking, of three sets of lymphoid tissue. The larger masses are called the faucial tonsils. This consists of compact tissue with crypts or pockets in it, and is what we refer to when we speak of tonsils alone.

On the wall of the pharynx and back of the nose is another area of lymphatic tissue which is larger in children than in adults. This is the nasopharyngeal tonsil or, in usual terminology, adenoids. On the back of the tongue is a ring of small elevations of lymphatic tissue known as the lingual tonsil. We seldom hear much of these.

What is the function of this lymphatic tissue? Is it to make lymphatic cells, does it act as a filter and protect, does it furnish an internal secretion, is it an eliminative organ, has it to do with immunity? It is not fully known. It may have some of all of these functions, if it is normal and healthy.

However, whatever its function is, it is probably the same as that of other lymphatic structures in the body. These lymphatic tissues are widely distributed. The spleen is a lymphatic tissue, the thousands of lymphatic glands, the patches in the alimentary canal, the tonsil ring, and the thymus gland in the chest in infancy and childhood. Because there are so many lymphatic structures in the body, if conditions arise so that it becomes necessary to have the tonsils or adenoids removed, there is no cause for worry for fear the system will be deprived of lymphatic tissue.

Those who are in a position to know, say that the loss of these lymphatic structures in the throat will not be missed any more than a small area of the skin would be missed if removed. If the tonsils and adenoids were diseased or enlarged so that they caused an obstruction, the only thing that would be missed would be the many disorders that can be traced to diseased tonsils and obstructive adenoids.

Some of the symptoms that may be attributed to adenoids and tonsils which are not normal are: Deafness and earaches, mouth breathing, snoring (caused by the tongue falling against the palate), night terrors, chronic and acute colds, "running nose" (maybe with blood stained mucus), coughs, thickened voice, backward mental and physical development, headaches, lassitude, inability to fix attention, bed-wetting, asthma, stammering, epileptic convulsions, etc.

If there is an obstruction of the breathing long enough, there are great changes produced in the bony structure of the face and of the teeth. The face becomes elongated, the nose more or less collapsed, the upper lip shortened and retracted, with open mouth. This is the adenoid face. Any obstruction of the breathing could cause this. There will also be changes in the chest bones and the child becomes pigeon breasted.

A short time ago I gave you two papers on adenoids and tonsils with a resume of the results in the cases of 5000 children who were operated on in the clinic at Rochester, New York. The resume showed that under skillful removal there was hardly any element of danger and that the improvement in the symptoms of the children was very marked.

If you find, after correcting your child's diet and other of its unhygienic habits, that the enlarged tonsils and adenoids giving rise to these symptoms I have mentioned, do not get better, then have a specialist remove the offending structures.

It is very rare that there is a new growth of the tissue after removal. Occasionally, however, this will happen, because it is impossible to remove the whole of the mucous membrane of the throat which produces these structures. If your child should be one of the rare cases, then an operation could be repeated, if necessary.

I have given this paper today because I have been requested by many mothers to talk more of this subject.

Tomorrow—Answers to Correspondents.

FARMING HAS SIDELINE

A new and profitable sideline to farming has developed by three farmers who work in the fields all day near York Center, Ill., and hold up "spooners" along country roads on Wednesday and Saturday nights. They started in June 1 and averaged 10 victims a week, most of whom were too embarrassed to report the holdups. All went well until these agricultural profiteers attempted to hold up the parked car of Deputy Sheriff Voss. Now somebody else will have to harvest "Lovers' Lane."

BARE ARMS FASHION

Beauty experts discover few women have arms pretty enough to wear them bare from the shoulder down, consequently the French fashion-mongers have introduced a new bare-to-the-shoulder fashion. The arms of American women are said to be too stout, those of the British too skinny, the Spanish too short. France makes claim to the best slimmest woman type and Italy the best Juno type. FORMER OFFICERS ATTEND MEETING

Knights of Pythias Hold Large Session In Honor of Past Chancellors

A very large attendance marked the meeting last night of the local K. of P. lodge, No. 331, which was held in the hall at Park avenue and South Brand boulevard. The past chancellors of District No. 31 put on the work, including the conferring of the knight rank on a class of candidates. Past chancellors were present from eleven lodges and more than fifty from Glendale.

Grand Prelate W. R. Meyers of Highland Park was a special guest and addressed the lodge. The members of the local K. of P. lodge are anticipating a visit in the near future from D. of K. K. band and patrol from La Borak Temple, No. 75 of Los Angeles and are planning a street parade for that time. At the close of last night's business session a banquet was served by a committee of which Emil Rehberg was chairman.

CHURCH SOCIETY HOLDS MEETING

Presbyterian Women Gather In All Day Session; to Have Dollar Day

Seventy women of the Presbyterian church congregation met at the church yesterday for the regular all-day meeting of the Women's Society of the church. The day's program began at 10 o'clock with a needlework hour and this was followed by an executive board meeting at 12 o'clock. During the board session arrangements were made for a cooked food sale to be held September 30 at the J. A. Newton electrical store on South Brand boulevard and for the dollar-day celebration at the next meeting of the society the third Tuesday in October.

Each member is to earn a dollar before the next meeting, when each one will bring her dollar and tell in rhyme how she earned it. At the close of the morning session a three-course luncheon was served by Circle Twelve and during the afternoon the women engaged in a missionary program arranged by Circle Six, with Mrs. G. F. Rae as chairman. The object of the program was "India" and the various papers presented related the conditions and modes of living in that country. Those giving papers were Mesdames Louis Tinning, G. F. Rae, J. P. Thompson, J. H. Berry, M. T. Harrison and Mrs. Hughes. Rev. Louis Tinning was the final speaker of the afternoon, telling of the "Soul Winning Campaign" to be launched shortly, and of the missionary study class to open October 19.

ENTERTAINS WITH INFORMAL PARTY

Dr. Maybelle Tinkler Hostess to About Forty Members of Business Club

The members of the Business and Professional Women's club were entertained at an informal party last night in the new rooms of Dr. Maybelle Tinkler, 107 1/2 South Brand boulevard, with about forty members present. An interesting program had been arranged for the occasion. This included piano selections by F. Y. Shuck of the Shuck Music company, who played several popular numbers.

Mrs. Verna S. Mitchell, assistant instructor of expression at the Emerson school gave two very delightful numbers, the first being an extract from Thomas Dixon's "Leopard Spots," called "An Expert in Matrimony," and the second a children's bedtime story.

Numbers Pleased
Miss Dorothy Wright, instructor of nature dancing at the same school gave two numbers of classical dancing, "The Ecstasy" and "The Balloon Dance." The guests being further entertained by a clever skit "Please Pass the Milk," presented by the pupils of the school, Dr. Pearl Anderson and H. H. Biederman.

The evening's program closed with piano numbers by Mr. Shuck, after which refreshments were served, and a social hour enjoyed. Out-of-town guests present included Madame K. LaVaute, Madame Germain, Miss Betty Ellis and Lewis Coleman Hall of Los Angeles.

Preceding the party at Dr. Tinkler's the various committees of the Business and Professional Women's club of which Dr. Laura Brown is president, held meetings to outline the work for the fall season.

FLAG IS SPECIAL GIFT FOR LODGE

Glendale Camp of Modern Woodmen Plans to Hold Dedication Services

Glendale Camp No. 12886, Modern Woodmen of America, at its meeting Friday night, will dedicate an American flag, the flag being a special gift from the home office of the society and is given in recognition of the remarkable growth of the local camp.

The flag is of paramount importance in a camp of the Modern Woodmen and is used in the opening ceremony of the lodge as well as being ever present in the camp hall as the guiding spirit throughout the meetings of the camp. The lodge is declared to stand out prominently for all that is considered upward and enlightening, and in this respect offers nothing in its work offensive to any religion or political creed. It does, however, demand that only white male persons of good moral character believing in a Supreme Being be admitted.

Membership Growth
Over forty years old and with a membership that has long since passed the million mark, the society is today declared the largest fraternal beneficiary order in the world, and is continuing to grow at an extremely rapid rate, the city of Los Angeles alone having four camps of Modern Woodmen, two of which have a membership of over 2000 each, it is declared. The local camp, handicapped as it is by the lack of suitable club rooms, is nevertheless making great strides with the means at its command. As the membership increases to warrant a home of its own, considerable further activities may be expected, say the officers.

M. E. CHURCH CLEARS UP DEBT

Dr. C. M. Crist Reports on Financial Success of Conference Year

The final Sunday, September 24, of the conference year of the Methodist churches of Southern California marks the close of the greatest year in the history of the First Methodist church of Glendale, according to the pastor, Dr. C. M. Crist. In giving a resume of the year Dr. Crist says: "There has not only been a large net increase in church membership but there will have been the meeting in full of all the financial obligations. "This next Sunday it is expected will be a record breaker in the matter of 'settling up' of accounts. The financial secretary has sent to every member in arrears a statement of what is due.

Financial Success
"This past year has been one of peculiar success in spite of financial stringency. The entire indebtedness of the church and parsonage properties has been subscribed and also a liberal sum for the seating of the gallery and other necessary improvements. "The annual conference will be held in Fresno beginning October 11 and continuing for a week. Bishop William A. Quayle will be the presiding bishop and Glendale will be well represented by local church people."

MAKE JELLY FOR EX-SERVICE MEN

Members of W. R. C. Answer Appeal Sent Out by Disabled Soldiers

The Glendale women of the Woman's Relief corps are displaying the same spirit toward the ex-service men of the world war as they did toward the boys in blue of 1860 and '65.

A recent call was issued from the Sawtelle Soldiers' home that there are 200 world war veterans there suffering with tuberculosis and that glasses of tart jelly would be a real treat and pleasure for them.

Mrs. Priscilla Houdyshel of the Glendale W. R. C. brought the request before the Glendale women and a goodly consignment of jelly is to be sent from Glendale on Saturday.

Many of the women are making special jelly for the boys, while others who have a supply on hand are sending some of their choicest stores. Mrs. Houdyshel announced this morning that she would like to have all those interested in sending jelly bring it to the regular all-day meeting of the Relief Corps Friday at the G. A. R. hall.

To be content with less is to have less discontent.

SELECTS ARTISTS FOR MUSIC CLUB

Executive Board Plans for Opening of Season; First Concert In October

A meeting of the executive board of the Glendale Music club was held yesterday afternoon in the music room of the high school and a list of artists selected, who will appear on programs during the club year. The first concert of the season will be given the first Thursday in October and the artists for that occasion will be announced later.

During the coming year the members of the club are to hear Claire Forbes Crane, pianist, who recently appeared at the Hollywood Bowl; Ricardo Montero, baritone of the French Opera company, who is coming out from New Orleans; Gertrude Ross, pianist-composer, and Sol Cohen, violinist; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Lott, singer and pianist respectively; Grace Woods Jess, who will present folk songs in costume; John Smallman and Alex Simonsen, the cellist; Mr. and Mrs. J. Spencer Kelly.

For the January concert it was definitely decided to have Charles Wakefield Cadman and the Italian Princess Redfeather, who has a rich mezzo-soprano voice and appears in native costume. Other artists for the year will be decided on later.

Select Meeting Date
At yesterday's meeting it was voted that the regular meetings of the executive board of the club will be held the third Tuesday afternoon of each month in the music room of the high school. As the initiation fee to the club will be doubled the first of October the officers of the club are anticipating a large number of applications before that time. Admission to the concerts will be only to those holding membership cards or guest coupons. Each member will be allowed four guest coupons for the entire year.

DOUBLE PREVIEW OFFERED TONIGHT

Regular 'Feast of Film' at Glendale Theatre; Single Show at 7:30 P. M.

A double preview, in addition to the regular program, is the banner attraction offered by the Glendale theatre at tonight's single performance, commencing at 7:30 o'clock.

This literal feast of film presented by Manager William A. Howe far surpasses anything in the way of picture bargains offered here and "standing room only" will be hung out by 8 o'clock, it is expected.

"Bull" Montana, featured by Hunt Stromberg in "A Punctured Prince," will be the prime mirth maker of the occasion. His company will be present in person, occupying many valuable seats. Leo Maloney and Josephine Hill also will preview their two-part western, "Here's Your Man." These stars will have a coterie of their co-workers in the crowd.

The regular bill features "When Romance Rides," a Zane Grey story in picture, which pulsates with life as Claire Adams, Carl Gantvoort and Jean Hersholt are starred as creatures of the wild. Clyde Cook in "The Eskimo" and other attractions complete the great bill.

A Michigan woman has had 111 operations. No trouble to guess what she talks about.

Randall, Lineberger May Meet In Debate

Fireworks are planned for the Ninth congressional district campaign. Charles H. Randall has addressed a letter to Congressman Lineberger suggesting that they meet on the platform in every town in the district to jointly discuss the issues.

Mr. Randall's letter follows, and an early acceptance is expected from Mr. Lineberger:
Pasadena, Calif.
Sept. 18, 1922.

My Dear Mr. Lineberger:
The canvass of the primary election discloses that your total vote was about 29,000 and my total was 26,000.

When the fact is considered that 200,000 or more voters were registered in the Ninth district, while only 55,000 indicated their intentions at the primary, it is apparent that the 150,000 absentees will have a very large voice on November 7 in the choice of congressman in our district.

In order that these voters who have yet to make up their minds shall have the fullest opportunity to hear and interrogate the candidates, I invite you to appear jointly with me in public discussion of the issues of the day, in as many places in the district as may be convenient to you.

I shall hope to have a very early reply to this letter, so that all the arrangements may be made promptly.

Very cordially,
CHARLES H. RANDALL.

SEEKS SITE FOR BRANCH LIBRARY

Board Makes Statement to Public; Suggests Ideas Be Brought Out

The Glendale Evening News is in receipt of the following communication from the library board of Glendale relative to the establishment of a branch library in the northwest section of the city.

"The library board, when making up its budget for the present fiscal year, asked for an appropriation of $5000 to establish a branch or substation in the northwest section of the city, portions of which are so remote from the main library as to practically prohibit convenient and frequent access to that very important city institution. This appropriation was made and the board is endeavoring to decide upon the proper location of this branch.

Invite Suggestions

"The only suggestion thus far made was presented by a representative of one group in this section, but we invite other suggestions and advice so we may act intelligently. No member of the board has any personal or financial interest in that section of the city which might prejudice his or her choice. Some communities are practically isolated from the closely settled sections of the city, making it very difficult to serve them all equally. We are hoping all interested parties will help us out in this matter.

"THE LIBRARY BOARD,
"By T. W. Preston."

MINOR OPERATION

A minor operation was performed this morning at the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital upon Mrs. A. E. Antunez of 632 North Louise street.
